

Gallery
Newsletter December 2019

As we wind down from the fullness of 2019 and prepare to welcome in a whole new decade it is timely to record and celebrate what has been quite a dynamic year. The rich seam of creativity across the Highlands continues to bring new makers and artists to our door. This is especially nice as they are predominantly from within a 25 mile radius. We have also welcomed back two of our regular contributors from past years. The make over back in Spring, of the mezzanine gallery has also helped to create this dynamic, yet peaceful energy. We are now certainly better placed to display the many diverse and beautiful pieces of our crafts people. There is no doubt the combination of quality art and our location continues to inspire and impress the many visitors and locals who visit us.

The two exhibitions, 'The Living Land Sea Sky' and our autumnal homage to our area 'Out There in Torridon' help to keep us all on our toes as both artists and organisers as well as a fresh perspective, leading us through the eyes of so many artists. A possible theme for next year maybe based around water ...

So this comes with a huge thank everyone who contributes to our Gallery enabling it to be the success it is. With the ongoing political uncertainty, we like many have seen a little down turn in revenue, but maybe spread over the whole year is not overly disheartening for the continuing success of this Community run enterprise.

We look forward to welcoming in the New Year with work from some new faces too as well as work from some artists who are already diversifying in their artistic journeys. In the mean time, thank you to all those who continue to bring their art to our walls, it is a real privilege to work with you all.

The Centre is open for business through the winter, see Gallery open hours below and please check our website for any updates.

Here are some images of work from artists who have joined us this year

Liam Mackay

Natalya Revitt

Lorraine Newman

Margaret Maunder

And just in case you are needing inspiration for Christmas gifts , we really do have a very broad selection of art , crafts, cards and calendars . Gifts for all the family. And....all created locally. Wishing everyone a fun filled Festive season and a healthy , peaceful New Year from us all at the Community Centre.

Sheila & the team

Winter
1 Nov – 31 March 2020
Mon, Wed, Fri
11am – 3pm

Contact
Email:
manager@lochtorridoncentre.co.uk
Tel: 01445 791 361
Website:
www.lochtorridoncentre.co.uk

Address
Loch Torridon Community
Centre
Torridon, By Achnasheen
Ross-shire, IV22 2EZ